

4 Wyndhead Way is an immaculately presented four-bedroom detached family home located in a very popular development in the historic Borders town of Lauder. Commutable to Edinburgh via the A68, there is also a train station at Stow, that runs to Edinburgh, which is approximately six miles away.

Situated in an excellent school catchment with strong transport links this flexible family home lies across two floors and comprises four bedrooms, an ensuite shower room, a further shower room, a sitting room, a generous open plan dining kitchen, a large conservatory, a utility room and a downstairs wc. The property also benefits from excellent storage, gas central heating and double glazing throughout.

Externally, the property has an attractive outside space, including a charming, enclosed garden to the rear with lawn, borders and a patio area which is accessed directly from the conservatory from where to enjoy the sun and more informal entertaining. To the front is a small area of lawn with shrubs plus the integral garage, and a monobloc driveway offering private off-street parking for two cars, along with an integral electric car charger.

Edinburgh is easily accessible via the A68, as are most Border towns. The Borders Railway, running from Tweedbank to Edinburgh, has a stop at Stow which is approximately six miles away, with the journey from Stow to Edinburgh Waverley being around forty-five minutes.

Location:

4 Wyndhead Way is located in the ancient Borders town of Lauder, which is situated half-way between the Lammermuir Hills and the River Tweed, and is surrounded by beautiful rolling countryside. The town provides an extensive range of amenities ranging from a variety of specialist shops, small supermarket, coffee shop/art gallery, and a couple of well-known hotels. The thriving old mill town of Galashiels sixteen miles to the South West offers a fuller range of shopping facilities, which include Tesco, ASDA, Next and Marks & Spencer.

Local tourist attractions include Thirlestane Castle on the southern side of Lauder, nearby Mellerstain House, and Abbotsford House on the outskirts of Melrose. There are also a variety of outdoor pursuits in the area that include fishing, horse riding, golf, mountain biking and a selection of walks that cross through the Scottish Borders. Local schools include the Lauder primary school, the highly regarded St Mary's preparatory school in Melrose, and Earlston High School. The Borders General Hospital lies just outside the town of Melrose which is only twelve and a half miles away, and Lauder sits in an easily accessible area with Edinburgh in easy reach via the A68, which also provides links to the north of England. The Borders Railway, running from Tweedbank to Edinburgh, has a stop at Stow which is approximately six miles away.
