Location

Jackson Close, Bradwell sits in a quiet modern residential pocket on the southern edge of Great Yarmouth. Bradwell has the feel of a self-contained village, you're within a few minutes of shops, schools and green spaces, yet only a short drive from the coast. Daily shopping is straightforward here. Beccles Road and Church Lane have a mix of convenience stores, a Co-op supermarket, takeaway options and a pharmacy. There's also a local butcher, post office and hairdresser within the village, while larger supermarkets and retail parks are about ten minutes away in Gorleston or Great Yarmouth.

Families have good local options, Homefield Church of England Primary and Hillside Primary are both nearby, with Lynn Grove Academy serving secondary-age pupils in the area. Nurseries and pre-schools are dotted through the village too, keeping school runs short and simple. Two GP surgeries, Millwood Surgery and Falkland Surgery, cover Bradwell and surrounding villages. Pharmacies are within walking distance, and the James Paget University Hospital in Gorleston is roughly a ten-minute drive for more specialist or emergency care.

Bus routes run regularly through Bradwell towards Great Yarmouth, Gorleston, and Lowestoft, making commuting or leisure trips easy even without a car. For drivers, the A47 and A143 are close by, linking towards Norwich and Beccles. Great Yarmouth train station offers rail services to Norwich and connections onward to London.

Jackson Close suits anyone after a calmer, suburban pace of life with the coast and countryside both within easy reach. You can walk to local parks, enjoy nearby playing fields or head to Gorleston beach for an afternoon by the sea. The area has a settled, community-minded feel, practical for families, relaxed for retirees, and close enough to town for those working in or around Great Yarmouth.
