Arundell is a contemporary three double bedroom detached house elevated just above the magnificent beach of Mawgan Porth, one of the most sought after bays on the rugged North Coast of Cornwall.

Built by the current owners in 2014, Arundell is situated in a quiet residential cul-de sac with far reaching views of the ocean, dramatic cliffs and beautiful coastline beyond.

The accommodation on offer is substantial, exceeding 2,740 square feet, and is beautifully presented and maintained throughout. The property is entered via a porch and then frosted glass door to the large hallway with Travertine tiled floor. The south facing living room benefits from large windows with fitted shutters and a contemporary circular wood burning stove. The enormous kitchen/dining/family room stands at over 500 square feet along with a continuation of the travertine tiled floor and bi fold doors leading onto the sun terrace and garden.

The abundant fully fitted modern kitchen is equipped with Miele appliances, an Aga, a wine fridge, hot tap and central granite topped island. An extra high ceiling in this double aspect room allows for a huge amount of natural light. From the kitchen is a large utility room with access door to the garden and plumbing for a washing machine and tumble dryer. From here is the integral garage with electric up and over door.

The ground floor is also home to the large principal bedroom complete with patio doors onto the rear terrace. There are fitted wardrobes and a fully tiled en-suite bathroom with a contemporary suite, bath and freestanding glass shower enclosure. There is also a large laundry cupboard housing the gas fired boiler, hot water tank and underfloor heating manifolds and a cloakroom.

Glass and oak stairs ascend to the first floor where there are two additional double bedrooms, each with a modern en-suite shower room and built in wardrobes. The front bedroom has a fantastic view of the beach and expanse of coastal headland.
