Overview

The Meldon - Four bedroom detached home in corner plots | Plots 6 & 12

The Meldon is the flagship of Long Close, a splendid four bedroom detached family home thoughtfully designed for the way we live today. As you step through the front door, a welcoming hallway with guest cloakroom draws you into a home that feels both generous and beautifully considered. To one side sits a well proportioned kitchen and dining room, the natural hub of the home, supported by a separate utility room that keeps the everyday clutter neatly out of sight. To the other, a spacious separate lounge stretches towards the garden, where bi-fold doors fold right back to blur the line between inside and out, perfect for summer entertaining and al fresco dining on warm evenings. The kitchen is individually designed and superbly appointed, with quality integrated Bosch appliances and sleek cabinetry. Moving upstairs, the home continues to impress. The principal bedroom and a second double both enjoy their own private en suites, a real luxury for families and guests alike, while two further bedrooms are served by a stylish family bathroom. With four bedrooms and such flexible space, the Meldon lends itself beautifully to family life and to working from home, with room to carve out a proper study or office. To the rear of the property, the enclosed garden is a lovely private space to relax and entertain, while the attached garage and off road parking complete the picture. Detached, refined and full of natural light, the Meldon offers the space and quality of a forever home in one of North Devon's most charming villages, with the coast, the countryside and Barnstaple all within easy reach.

Outside

Tucked into the rolling green folds of the North Devon countryside, Landkey is one of those villages people fall for the moment they arrive. It has held onto its character where so many have lost theirs: a genuine rural community, largely unspoilt, where neighbours still know one another and life moves at a gentler, kinder pace.

At the heart of it all is everything that makes a place feel like home. There is a well regarded primary school, a village shop for the daily essentials, the handsome church of St Paul, a village hall that hosts the events which knit a community together, and a friendly local pub where the evenings pass easily in good company. It is the kind of place where children grow up with room to roam, and where a morning walk somehow always ends in a conversation.

Landkey wears its history lightly but proudly. Once a Saxon farming settlement, it became a parish in its own right back in the 12th century, and its church has watched over village life for centuries. It is also famous for something rather lovely. The Mazzard, a sweet local cherry, had all but disappeared from North Devon until Landkey's own parish council brought it back from the brink, planting a new orchard as part of the Millennium Green. Come spring, the blossom is a picture, and it is a story that says everything about the spirit of the place.

For all its rural calm, Landkey is beautifully placed. Barnstaple, the regional centre, sits just three miles away with its high street shops, its historic pannier market, theatre, leisure facilities and rail links along the Tarka Line through to Exeter and beyond. You enjoy the quiet of the countryside without ever feeling far from the everyday.
