Property Description

The home's stone-faced façade and large front windows create an attractive first impression, while on-street parking is readily available nearby. Step through the timber door with glazed panels into one of two versatile reception rooms — a warm and welcoming space ideal for dining or relaxing with family. This room offers ample space for furniture and a dining table, while the open staircase leading to the first floor adds a touch of character. A clever open space beneath the stairs provides the perfect nook for a compact home office or storage area.

Flowing from this space, the kitchen features wood-effect laminate flooring, complemented by solid wood worktops and a timeless shaker-style design. A large Belfast style sink, brick-style splashback, integrated electric oven, and four-ring gas hob create a charming yet functional culinary space, with room for a freestanding fridge-freezer. A timber door at the rear provides direct access to the garden.

The main lounge offers a bright and inviting setting to unwind, enhanced by generous proportions, detailed skirting, and a gas flame fireplace set into a traditional chimney breast with a slate hearth — the perfect focal point for cosy evenings.

Upstairs, the primary bedroom is spacious enough to comfortably accommodate a double bed, offering pleasant views and fitted wardrobes on either side of the chimney breast for practical storage. The second bedroom, laid with exposed timber flooring, is ideal as a single room, guest bedroom, or home office, and enjoys glimpses of Coed y Gopa Woodlands between neighbouring homes. Above the stairs, a built-in cupboard provides handy additional storage, while an open alcove houses the gas central heating boiler.

The family bathroom is bright and well-proportioned, featuring a large bathtub with an overhead electric shower, a wash basin, and a WC. Mosaic tiling around the bath and sink area adds a stylish finishing touch.

Outside, the rear garden is compact and low-maintenance, laid with hardstanding paving — ideal for a seating area or potted plants. There's a useful storage shed and an additional space where the original outhouse once stood. The garden also provides access to a shared pathway for bins and rear access.

With its blend of character features, versatile living spaces, and a location that offers both convenience and charm, this delightful property is ready to welcome its next owner to make it their own.
