

An aerial photograph of a large, multi-story brick property. The main building is a long, two-story structure with a dark tiled roof and several skylights. It features a central courtyard paved with reddish-brown bricks, where a black SUV and a silver car are parked. To the left, there's a smaller brick building with a gabled roof and a circular window. To the right, a large green field is visible, partially enclosed by a wooden fence. The background shows other residential buildings and trees.
