30 Lloyd Baker Street

London

A wonderfully individual and substantial period home extending to approximately 1,830 sq ft, set on the highly sought-after Lloyd Baker Street and offering an exceptional 40ft private garden, a genuine rarity for such a central London location. Arranged over four levels, the house combines attractive period character with thoughtfully designed contemporary additions. The ground floor provides two elegant reception spaces, currently arranged as a separate reception room and dining room, with high ceilings, original fireplaces, sash windows and an abundance of natural light.

The lower ground floor forms the heart of the home. A superb 25ft kitchen and dining space opens through extensive glazing onto the patio and garden beyond, creating an impressive connection between the house and its outside space. A large double bedroom and bathroom are also positioned on this level, providing excellent flexibility for guests or family.

The first floor offers two further generous double bedrooms and a bathroom, while a separate utility room provides valuable additional practicality. Above, a private study creates an ideal home / working space away from the main living accommodation.
