Offers Over £500,000

Watersong is a detached house enjoying the best of both worlds, with a natural outlook to the River Wye and the Broomy Hill Conservation Area and only a short riverside walk into the city centre. It also comes with full planning permission to build a similar property on the attached plot currently being used as extra garden and parking space. With five spacious bedrooms, three bathrooms, and a boathouse that has direct access to the river, this home is ideal for families as well as providing extra space for guests and a home office. Built in 1991, the property has been recently updated throughout, ensuring a fresh and inviting atmosphere for its new owners. The well-appointed rooms provide ample space for entertaining and relaxation, making it easy to host gatherings with friends and family both inside and outside the property.

Location

The property is situated on the picturesque banks of the River Wye, offering a scenic and tranquil setting. The surrounding area benefits from a range of local amenities, while the city of Hereford provides a comprehensive selection of shopping, leisure, and recreational facilities. Additionally, Hereford boasts a variety of educational institutions and excellent transport links, including both bus and railway stations.

Development opportunity

An exciting development opportunity exists on the plot adjacent to the property (and currently held under a separate title deed) that remains from the original approved scheme for six houses of which only five were built. A Certificate of Lawful Development is in place which grants Full Planning Permission 'in perpetuity' for the construction of a dwelling, specifically as House Type C (similar to Watersong) from the original approved application HC8705879F. This certification the green light for the construction of a new home on the adjacent land, offering significant potential for future development. Further details on this development opportunity can be accessed through the Herefordshire Planning Portal. The relevant planning application number for reference is P240635/V. Interested parties are encouraged to visit the portal for full documentation and additional information.
