A charming Grade II listed semi-detached cottage, originally dating back to around 1420, beautifully updated and extended over the years. Nestled in the heart of Titchfield Village, the property enjoys a secluded position along a private walkway, offering both privacy and character. It also benefits from a nearby garage, providing secure parking or useful additional storage. The accommodation is thoughtfully arranged and finished to a high standard throughout. It comprises three well-proportioned bedrooms, two bathrooms, a fitted kitchen with a separate utility room, and two reception rooms. One of the standout features is the impressive basement room, ideal for use as a dining area or additional living space. The cottage is presented in immaculate condition and retains a wealth of original character, including stripped wooden doors and floors, exposed beams and timbers, and a striking inglenook fireplace with a log-burning stove in the sitting room. Outside, there is a delightful enclosed walled garden with multiple seating areas, perfect for relaxing or entertaining.
