A photograph of a bright, white interior hallway. On the left is a bay window with three vertical glass panes, each featuring a decorative stained glass flower design. A light-colored curtain hangs to the right of the window. A small, ornate brass light fixture hangs from the ceiling. To the right, a white staircase with a matching balustrade leads upwards. A red and white patterned rug is partially visible on the floor in the foreground.

Extremely attractive traditional bay-fronted semi-detached home with well maintained accommodation providing scope to personalise, situated on the popular no-through road within easy reach of the town centre.

For sale with no upward chain involved, viewing and consideration of this delightful 1930's semi-detached home is essential to appreciate its well maintained shell, combined with the scope to move straight in and then make it your own, plus its delightful good-sized plot providing scope to extend the accommodation (subject to obtaining the necessary planning permission), and its exact position on the sought-after, quiet, no-through road. Ideal whether looking to move up or down the property market, or making your first step onto the ladder. Situated with easy walking distance to the local convenience shop found on the Birdland development, and the town centre with its wide range of amenities several supermarkets and independent shops, public houses and restaurants, coffee houses and bars, the three tier school system, train station, doctor surgeries, modern leisure centre and gyms, and the multi-screen cinema.

An original timber and part stained, leaded glazed entrance door opens to the welcoming hall which provides a pleasant introduction to the home, with stairs rising to the first floor and an understairs cupboard/pantry, and doors to the ground floor accommodation. The bay front facing lounge has a focal chimney breast with a coal effect gas fire set on a quarry tiled hearth. Behind is the separate dining room, also having a focal chimney breast with a coal effect gas fire having a stone effect surround and quarry tiled hearth, fitted cupboard in the recess, and a window enjoying a lovely outlook over the garden. The kitchen has a range of fitted units with worktops and an inset sink unit, space for a gas cooker and plumbing for a washing machine, dual aspect windows and a uPVC part obscure double glazed door opening to the rear garden.

To the first floor, the landing has a side facing window providing natural light. Doors lead to the three bedrooms, two of which can easily accommodate a double bed, with the rear facing room having fitted furniture to one side and a lovely far-reaching view over the garden and beyond. Finally, there is the fitted bathroom and separate wc, having a white suite and an airing cupboard housing the gas combination central heating boiler.

Outside, to the rear, a paved patio provides a lovely seating and entertaining area enjoying a degree of privacy, leading to the good sized garden which is enclosed to three sides and predominantly laid to lawn, with well stocked beds and borders containing a variety of shrubs and established trees. Gated access leads to the side of the home. To the front is a gravelled foregarden with established shrubs, enclosed to three sides. Wrought iron double gates open to the block paved driveway which extends to the side of the property, providing ample parking leading to the garage, which needs attention/possible removal. The plot provides potential for the accommodation to be extended, subject to obtaining the necessary planning permission, without significantly compromising the outside space.
