ACCOMMODATION

From New Street, in the bustling heart of vibrant Henley-on-Thames, into this attractive 3-storey brick fronted Georgian townhouse. Through the hardwood front door and into the hallway, with oak flooring and natural light from the window-light above the door.

The dining room features high ceilings, ornamental coving, oak flooring and fitted shelving to either side of the fireplace. A double-height window is south-facing.

Along the hallway and a door leads down to the tanked double-chambered cellar, with lighting and a window out at street level. This room was professionally waterproofed and so makes a useful and generous storage space, albeit with a reduced head height.

Into the comfortable sitting room, with high ceilings, oak flooring and a fireplace with an ethanol fire. A glass door leads out to the courtyard.

The kitchen comprises contemporary grey shaker-style fitted wall and base units, with a composite quartz worktop, and a glass splashback. Integrated appliances include an induction hob with a retractable extractor function, a dishwasher, an electric fan oven and separate combination microwave oven, a small wine fridge, and space for a freestanding fridge-freezer. A butler sink sits beneath a large window to the courtyard. The original fireplace adds a characterful display area.

Up a few carpeted stairs and then down to the modern bathroom, with Karndean flooring, a generous tiled walk-in shower with a rainfall head and hand wand, a wash hand basin vanity unit with drawers, and a lit mirror above; a w.c. and a heated rail over a traditional style radiator.

Further up the carpeted stairs and into the bright carpeted room currently in use as a study or as bedroom 4.

From the main hallway and up the stairs to the first floor. The stairwell is a bright space with featured lighting, and an attractive handrail going up to the first and second floors.

A bright double bedroom to the front has a large south-facing sash window, carpets, and a feature fireplace with shelving to either side.

A laundry utility room has been installed on the first floor, with space for a washing machine and tumble dryer, storage cabinets, a worktop and a tiled splashback. A small window overlooks the rear. The spacious panelled family bathroom features a striking free-standing bath with a freestanding chrome tap, a tiled walk-in shower, a twin vanity unit with drawers, a w.c. and a window to the rear.

Up to the second floor, where another generous carpeted double bedroom features a south-facing sash window, fitted wardrobes, and a fireplace with shelving. A smaller double bedroom is carpeted, with a window to the rear, and has an en suite bathroom with w.c., wash hand basin and a shower.

OUTSIDE

From the sitting room, a glass door leads out to the secluded walled courtyard garden - a welcoming enclosed entertaining or relaxing space, with a mature magnolia tree, ample space for a container garden, and room for outdoor sofas and table.
