DESCRIPTION

Set on the quiet and well-regarded Norway Drive, this neatly presented three-bedroom detached home offers balanced accommodation, a private rear garden and a detached garage, all within one of Fulford's most consistently sought-after residential pockets. Sold with no onward chain, the property also benefits from planning permission in situ to extend into a four-bedroom home, presenting an excellent opportunity for future enhancement.

The ground floor offers a front living room, a separate dining room with doors to the rear garden, and a practical kitchen accessed from the hallway.

Upstairs, three well-proportioned bedrooms provide comfortable family accommodation, supported by a family bathroom.

Outside, the home enjoys a private rear garden with lawn and mature planting, alongside a detached garage and driveway parking to the front.

Norway Drive benefits from a peaceful cul-de-sac setting with no through-traffic, creating a calm, safe and family-friendly environment close to Fulford's excellent amenities, schools and green spaces.

Fulford remains one of York's most desirable suburbs, celebrated for its strong community feel, riverside walks and quick access into York city centre, making this location a consistently appealing choice for families and professionals.

With its chain-free status, detached layout, cul-de-sac setting and existing planning permission, this home is well suited to buyers seeking a well-kept property with clear potential to update, extend and create a personalised finish close to the city.
