A spacious and versatile family home designed for modern living, entertaining and everyday ease – with generous reception space, flexible work-from-home rooms and a superb rear garden made for family life.

Set within the ever-popular Fairfield area, this impressive, detached home offers far more than just space — it offers a lifestyle built around comfort, flexibility and time together.

From the moment you step inside, there is a real sense that this is a home designed to adapt to the way modern families actually live, whether that means hosting friends, working from home, finding room for older children to spread out, or simply enjoying a property with the space to breathe both inside and out.

At the heart of the home is the superb open-plan kitchen / breakfast / dining space, a sociable and practical hub where busy weekday mornings, family meals and weekend entertaining can all unfold with ease. The layout creates a natural connection between cooking, dining and spending time together, while the generous proportions make it easy to imagine everything from children doing homework at the table to guests gathering in the kitchen during a celebration. With direct access out to the garden and patio area, the whole space lends itself beautifully to indoor-outdoor living in the warmer months.

The separate living room provides the perfect balance — a calm, comfortable retreat for evenings in, movie nights or quieter family time away from the main social spaces. For buyers looking for flexibility, this home really comes into its own. The additional office and workspace / ground-floor bedroom create options that are increasingly hard to find: a dedicated home office, a playroom, hobby room, guest space, teenage den or even a useful area for multi-generational living. Whether you work from home full-time, need room for a growing family or simply want the freedom to shape the house around your lifestyle, the ground floor layout gives you that versatility.

Upstairs, the property continues to deliver with well-proportioned bedrooms and a generous family bathroom, creating a home that works just as well for busy family routines as it does for relaxed weekend lie-ins. The bedrooms offer plenty of room for children, guests or dressing space, while the overall layout makes the house feel balanced and easy to live in.

Outside is where the lifestyle appeal really shines. The rear garden is a fantastic size and perfectly suited to family life — ideal for children to play, summer barbecues with friends, outdoor dining or simply enjoying a bit more privacy and breathing space than many homes can offer.

The covered patio / pergola area adds another dimension to the garden, creating a sheltered spot for morning coffee, evening drinks or entertaining outdoors even when the weather is less predictable. Combined with the lawn and /summerhouse, it's the kind of outside space that encourages you to use it every day rather than just admire it from the kitchen window.

With ample parking to the front, a highly practical layout and a wonderful mix of sociable living areas and flexible private spaces, this is a home that would suit a wide range of buyers — particularly families wanting a property that can grow and change with them over time. It's a house that offers not just accommodation, but a genuine upgrade in lifestyle.
