There is an impressive entrance foyer with vaulted ceiling which creates a light-filled introduction to the property plus a convenient ground floor cloaks just off the main entrance.

The main living accommodation includes a generous lounge featuring exposed timber ceilings, beams and an attractive brick fireplace housing a multi-fuel stove.
Adjoining the lounge is an impressive dining room featuring a striking spiral staircase and magnificent full-length aluminium double-glazed window, creating an attractive architectural feature whilst allowing natural light to flood the room and providing delightful views towards the canal.

The dining kitchen is fitted with an extensive range of units and quality Bosch appliances, complemented by an incorporating dining area and spacious separate utility room. An additional reception room/bedroom three offers versatile accommodation and offers direct access to the gardens.

From the garage are two separate office rooms currently utilised as office space and a dining room offering great potential for annex accommodation or a ground floor suite. The accommodation offers tremendous flexibility and further potential, subject to any necessary consents. This arrangement could prove particularly attractive for multi-generational living or those requiring adaptable accommodation.

Occupying a desirable non-estate position on the fringes of Congleton, the property directly adjoins the Macclesfield Canal towpath, providing convenient access to scenic walks and the surrounding countryside. Despite its peaceful setting, Congleton town centre, local amenities, schools and the beautiful Congleton Park are all readily accessible.

To the first floor there are two bedrooms, including a principal bedroom with adjoining dressing room and a second bedroom benefiting from an en-suite shower room. A family bathroom features a quality Fired Earth suite with freestanding roll-top bath.

A space-saving staircase provides access to the substantial loft room, forming the upper level of the accommodation. This impressive and versatile space features a vaulted timber-clad ceiling, exposed beams, roof lights and fitted study areas, making it ideal for use as a home office, library or hobby room.

Throughout the property are numerous individual features, including exposed brickwork, timber-clad ceilings and distinctive architectural detailing. A further notable improvement is the replacement aluminium double-glazed windows, installed in 2026 to various rooms.

Externally, the gardens are undoubtedly one of the property's outstanding features. Extending around the residence, they have been extensively planted over the years to create a wonderful collection of individual garden areas with an almost woodland-style setting. Meandering pathways connect secluded seating areas, stone-paved terraces, mature specimen trees, colourful acers, ornamental shrubs and established bamboo.
An attractive ornamental pond adds further interest, whilst a substantial detached timber log cabin, currently utilised as a home gym, provides an excellent additional facility with potential for alternative uses.

To the rear, the gardens adjoin open fields, enjoying an attractive rural outlook, whilst the neighbouring canal provides a particularly picturesque backdrop. The property is approached through double timber entrance gates onto a sweeping driveway providing generous off-road parking and access to the integral garage.

A truly individual home combining character, generous accommodation and exceptional gardens with the tranquillity of canal side living, whilst remaining conveniently positioned for the amenities of Congleton and direct access to Macclesfield and Leek.
