DESCRIPTION

White Willows is a hugely impressive and beautifully appointed, late-19th century country house of tremendous warmth and comfort, which is now for sale for the first time in 26 years. The house itself is distinctive in design and imposing in stature, built of local Hurdwick stone, and provides elegant and well-balanced accommodation which encompasses four double bedrooms, three bathrooms and three fabulous reception rooms, plus a bespoke Charles Yorke kitchen, all full of traditional detail and high-quality interior fixtures. Externally, the house is complemented by exceptional, southwest-facing formal gardens and grounds of approximately 3 acres, offering significant appeal to keen horticulturists and active families, and there are two paddocks totalling 7.84 acres and stable buildings, presenting strong equestrian appeal, particularly with moorland outriding from the doorstep. Finally, there is live planning to create an annexe using and extending the existing double garage building, adding potential for those seeking multi-generational living. Overall, this is an extremely rare opportunity to acquire one of the area's finest homes.

HOUSE AND GARDENS

Throughout the house is an array of traditional details of the property's period, including moulded coving, corbels and ceiling roses, detailed architraves, high skirting, dado rails, beautiful fireplaces, mullioned windows and window seats. The three reception rooms and three principal bedrooms all overlook the wonderful gardens.

An original entrance door leads into a slate-tiled porch and central reception hallway, from where the ground-floor accommodation is comprised as follows: a large, bright and dual-aspect drawing room featuring a handsome cast-iron fireplace with marble surround and French doors opening to the rear courtyard; through double doors, an adjacent formal dining room, also featuring a matching cast-iron fireplace with marble surround; a sitting room with double doors opening onto the rear terrace, gas fireplace within a stone surround, and bespoke fitted shelving and display cabinetry; the magnificent kitchen, fitted with a bespoke, hand-painted oak kitchen by Charles Yorke; a utility/boot room with further units and granite worktops, a second Franke stainless-steel sink, space for a wine cooler and upright fridge-freezer and a walk-in pantry with original slate shelving; a coats and boots vestibule, and; a cloakroom.

Of particular note, the kitchen is equipped with granite work surfaces incorporating a Franke stainless-steel sink and drainer, plus a large matching island, superb built-in dresser unit, integrated Miele dishwasher, and a substantial electric AGA with double ovens and dual hotplates, and an independently operated, integrated module with a further oven and four-ring electric hob.

On the first floor are four generous double bedrooms, including an impressive, dual-aspect master suite, with fitted wardrobes, marble fireplace, walk-in dressing room with built-in cherry furniture, and a fully tiled en-suite bathroom with both a panelled bath and walk-in shower enclosure. The second bedroom is served by its own en-suite bathroom incorporating a bath and tiled shower enclosure, whilst the third and fourth bedrooms share a Jack and Jill bathroom. Finally, there is a dedicated study fitted with bespoke oak furniture and desk space, which could be converted to a fifth bedroom, and a further versatile room with fitted cupboards and shelving, formerly used as a playroom but suitable as a second home office/study, hobby room or games room.

Externally, the house is approached through electric gates, opening onto a sweeping, tree-lined carriage driveway, planted with a colourful selection of azaleas, camellias and rhododendrons. An undoubted highlight of White Willows is its extensive formal gardens, which extend to approximately 3 acres and lie predominantly to the south and west of the house. These include expansive, well-kept lawns, herbaceous borders, a walled courtyard, a former kitchen garden, a rewilded bluebell and wildflower glade, a knot garden, and a raised sun terrace running the full length of the rear of the house, attractively framed by mature wisteria. The grounds also include a notable collection of mature specimen trees, including a Lucombe oak, a sizeable tulip tree, a beautiful Paulownia, a Norwegian maple, plus Japanese acers and Monterey cypresses. To the rear of the house is a detached laundry building and a detached double garage with a first-floor storage loft. This building benefits from consent for conversion and extension to create an annexe, offering excellent ancillary potential.

LAND AND BUILDINGS

Beyond the formal gardens are two adjoining fields of 3.25 and 4.59 acres. These are served by a stable yard with two stable buildings, providing up to five loose boxes, along with hay stores, a tack room and lorry store. The northern paddock has separate gated access out to the lane.
