Stepping inside, you enter a welcoming central hallway that connects all areas of the bungalow. Wood effect flooring runs through this space and continues into the lounge, dining area and bedrooms, giving a consistent and well-finished feel throughout. Two built-in storage cupboards are positioned here, one housing the boiler and another providing useful general storage, along with access to the loft and wall-mounted lighting.

From the hallway, the lounge offers a bright and comfortable living space filled with natural light from large double-glazed windows. Wood effect flooring continues here, and a gas fire set within a brick and tiled surround provides a strong focal point. Radiators are positioned within the room, and there is generous space for a full lounge furniture layout. This space flows directly into the dining area and kitchen, creating a clear open plan feel across the main living accommodation. The dining area continues with the same wood-effect flooring and comfortably accommodates a dining table and chairs, making it well-suited for everyday living and entertaining.

The kitchen forms part of this open-plan layout and is both spacious and practical in design. Tiled flooring defines the kitchen area, which is fitted with a range of wall and base units with drawers and ample worktop space. Integrated appliances include a built-in double oven and gas hob. A one and a half bowl sink and drainer with mixer tap is positioned below the window, with tiled splashbacks surrounding the work areas. Plumbing is in place for a washing machine, space is available for a fridge freezer, and ceiling spotlights provide focused task lighting. From the dining area, sliding doors lead into a very large conservatory, which adds substantial additional living space. This room is fully glazed and features a glazed roof, allowing natural light to flood the space throughout the day. French doors open directly out to the garden, creating an easy connection between indoor and outdoor living.

Returning to the hallway, the property offers three well-proportioned bedrooms. Bedroom one is a comfortable double room finished with wood-effect flooring, a radiator and a double-glazed window. Bedroom two is also a double room and continues with the same flooring, alongside a radiator, double-glazed window and a TV point. Bedroom three provides a generous single room, ideal for use as a home office, guest room or hobby space, again finished with matching flooring and fitted with a radiator and double-glazed window. Completing the interior, the bathroom is accessed from the hallway and is finished with tiled flooring and tiled walls. Fittings include a low-level WC, hand-wash basin and a bath with a shower over and a glazed screen, complemented by a heated towel rail.

Outside, the garden is a particularly large and impressive feature of the property, benefitting from its corner plot position, which provides a strong sense of space and privacy. The garden extends around the bungalow and is mainly laid to lawn, offering a broad and open outdoor area. Established planting and boundary fencing frame the space, creating structure without overcrowding. A patio area provides space for outdoor seating and entertaining, while a timber shed offers practical outdoor storage. The scale of the garden allows for flexibility of use while remaining easy to enjoy and maintain. Parking is provided by a brick weave driveway offering off-road space for multiple vehicles and leading to a detached garage fitted with power and lighting. The frontage is neatly presented and designed for low maintenance, finished with a slate-planted area that completes the setting of the bungalow.
