Located in Great Paxton is The Thatched Oven, a quintessential Grade II listed, three bedroom cottage, with parking.

Great Paxton village was first recorded in the Domesday Book, and this charming cottage was originally built as a farmhouse circa 1640. The cottage has undergone many upgrades over the years, and has been extended to provide additional living space, yet still retains the character and period features of the original property.

Welcome to The Thatched Oven

Step inside a bright and welcoming kitchen, featuring cream cabinets, stone worktops and integrated appliances. At its heart is a practical island offering additional storage and space for informal dining. To the side, a breakfast bar provides the perfect spot for relaxed family mornings.

The lounge showcases original exposed beams and an impressive inglenook fireplace with an electric fire, the perfect place to relax. Triple-aspect windows to the front and side enjoy views across the landscaped gardens, with French doors opening onto the patio. Continuing through to the dining room which benefits from dual-aspect views over the front and rear gardens, original exposed beams, and an inglenook fireplace featuring a Victorian cast-iron stove. There is space for a large dining table, ideal for entertaining family and friends.

Upstairs, there are three double bedrooms, each featuring characterful exposed beam walls. Bedrooms one and two further benefit from built-in storage cupboards. An inner landing leads to a useful utility area, incorporating a built-in cupboard with space for a washing machine. Completing the living space is a four-piece bathroom, tastefully fitted with a traditional roll-top bath on claw feet, and a separate shower.

Outside, the property enjoys both front and rear gardens, offering a high degree of privacy. To the side of the house is a patio area, ideal for entertaining during the warmer months. The gardens are surrounded by mature shrubs and fruit trees and include a protected newt pond. To the rear, there is a storage shed and a large gravel driveway providing parking for up to four vehicles, with gates for added security.

Additionally, the property benefits from a re-thatched roof, completed in March 2021, with a traditional Hare finial proudly watching from above.
