The living room is a calm and inviting space, beautifully proportioned and filled with natural light from its dual-aspect windows. A cosy multi-fuel stove rests on a slate hearth with a limestone surround and mantle, forming a charming focal point for quieter evenings. The timber sash window frames a gentle outlook over the garden, enhancing the sense of peace and privacy.

The kitchen blends country character with modern convenience, fitted with wall and base units and thoughtfully equipped with an inset stainless steel sink and drainer, integrated dishwasher, double oven with separate grill, Neff four-ring electric hob, extractor fan and under-unit lighting.

Beyond the kitchen sits the partially separated dining area, positioned perfectly between the kitchen and the sun room to the rear. This natural flow of space makes everyday living and entertaining feel effortless, linking the heart of the home with the garden beyond.

The sun room is a particularly charming addition. Set at the rear of the property, it enjoys an intimate connection with the surrounding countryside, drawing in light and views in equal measure. Patio doors open onto a decked seating area, creating an easy transition to outdoor living.

Upstairs, the landing feels bright and airy thanks to an expansive sash window offering far-reaching views down the valley.

The principal bedroom is a generous and restful retreat with dual-aspect windows and built-in wardrobes and drawers, yet still ample room for a full suite of furniture. Bedroom two is another comfortable double, also benefiting from a built-in wardrobe and a lovely outlook to the rear.

The house bathroom comprises a panelled bath with electric overhead shower, pedestal wash hand basin and WC, finished with part-tiled and part-panelled walls, a well-appointed space suited to everyday living. A secondary shower room, complete with WC, wash hand basin and standalone electric shower cubicle, adds further practicality.

The gardens, which unfold to the rear of the property, are a true highlight. A stone-flagged terrace provides a wonderful spot for summer dining, while the extensive lawn stretches out beyond, bordered by mature trees that offer a sense of privacy, while retaining glimpses of the surrounding countryside. Generous in scale and peaceful in setting, the garden offers ample opportunity for further landscaping or simply to be enjoyed as it is. a private slice of Lakeland countryside, quietly tucked away within the Lake District
