This well-located ground floor flat presents a practical and accessible living space, designed specifically with the comfort and needs of residents aged over fifty-five in mind. The property features one bedroom and a spacious lounge, carefully planned to optimise both space and functionality. The fitted kitchen offers convenience and utility, providing a dedicated area for meal preparation and storage. A particular highlight is the large shower and wet room, which is especially suited to those seeking enhanced accessibility and ease of use.

The apartment also benefits from allocated parking, ensuring a designated space for residents or visitors. In addition, the property's leasehold tenure offers a secure arrangement, and the flat's ground floor position further enhances its accessibility. Thoughtfully constructed to support residents with mobility considerations, this home forms part of a community with shared amenities, including access to a community centre aimed at fostering social engagement and connection among residents.
