Introducing

CHAIN-FREE OPPORTUNITY IN TRANQUIL SETTING WITH SCOPE FOR DEVELOPMENT

We are delighted to bring to market this chain-free and absolutely charming spacious home, situated in a secluded hamlet high on the Kent Downs. This historically significant detached family home is available for the first time in forty years.

Offering both privacy and rural tranquility in almost three acres of grounds, this former inn is Grade II listed, with the oldest part of the building dating to 1698. It's equidistant to Ashford and Canterbury, with easy access to their excellent transport links and many outstanding schools.

The property retains a wealth of original features and period detail, yet there is plenty of scope for updating and enhancement, together with potential to extend, subject to the necessary consents. Adjoining the large established and mature gardens, there is an enclosed paddock which has its own separate access from the lane. Of particular note is the unconverted stables, which offers significant potential for development. There are also other outbuildings suitable for re-development into ancillary accommodation, studio, gym or home office, subject to the requisite planning permissions.

In Detail

The house's generous accommodation is arranged over 3,100 square feet with four large bedrooms, all with their own bathrooms and custom-made wardrobes.

The ground floor features a series of elegant reception rooms including a sitting room, a formal drawing room and library, both with wood burning stoves, and a dining room. The kitchen/breakfast room, with adjacent pantry, boot room and utility, WC and cloakroom, provide practical and adaptable space for modern family life. There are also two separate studies, ideal for taking advantage of the full fibre connection installed at the property.

The layout has some clever touches, especially when it comes to the bedroom arrangements. Two bedrooms are at one end of the first floor, with their own private staircase and individual bathrooms. The master suite provides extra privacy at the other end of the property, again with its own private staircase and bathroom.

The fourth bedroom is in effect self-contained; it can be accessed from within the house or via its own external entrance. It has plentiful storage and a large bathroom, and even its own garden and terrace. This was once used as a B&B, and would suit those who regularly have friends or relatives to stay, or indeed are looking for multi-generational living, as it offers a degree of independence from the main house.

This is a unique family home set in rolling countryside offering both heritage and opportunity, with easy access to London via Wye or Ashford, to the City of Canterbury, and with easy access to the Continent.

You can walk across the fields to the fantastic pubs in Hastingleigh and Crundale. The bustling village of Wye is less than ten minutes' drive away with its shops, pubs and restaurants, and of course its mainline train station.

There is a wonderful community feel here; yet neighbours also enjoy the tranquility of this "best of all worlds" location. We highly recommend early viewing.

Hastingleigh

Hastingleigh sits high up in the rolling plateau of the North Downs above the North Downs Way and above the Pilgrims Way which runs along the Kent Downs escarpment.

Mentioned in the Domesday Book, Hastingleigh was on one of a number of north south routes connecting Canterbury with the old Saxon shore line port at Lympne. A little way outside the village is the church of St Mary's – worship in this magically peaceful place is recorded from the 1200s.

Hastingleigh is a well kept rural village and a vibrant community complete with its pub – The Bowl Inn; its village pond and a village hall for its many clubs and societies, almost hidden away in the quiet folds of the Kent Downs. Hastingleigh has many links with the neighbouring villages of Elmsted, Waltham, Petham and Bodsham including for its church, clubs and societies and local primary school.
