Location

Calton Gardens is a wonderful, wide avenue (a 'no through road') with ample parking on one side and woodland on the other. The houses are set back slightly and there is a real sense of community on the street. Drop down the hill into Widcombe (a few minutes' walk) and you'll find a mix of independent shops, friendly cafes and two pubs serving excellent food. The mainline train station is five minutes' walk away via the pedestrian bridge over the River Avon. The nearby Kennett & Avon canal is wonderful for a run or cycle and you can't beat a walk up Jacob's Ladder, perhaps with canine friends, for more splendid views of the city from Alexandra Park. Widcombe School has received Outstanding Ofsted reports and Beechen Cliff is 0.6 miles on foot and Hayesfield 0.9 miles. Mainline trains will have you in Paddington, London, in an hour and 20 minutes. The Widcombe Association organises events throughout the year.

Calton Gardens Widcombe

A major renovation and modernisation of the entire property was carried out by the current owner and completed in 2020. This included an extensive and transformative remodelling of the top floor to create something truly exceptional and totally unique for Bath. Arranged over three floors, the property offers excellent insulation, soundproofing, and ambient concealed lighting throughout. Stylish, modern, and thoughtfully finished, this home is sure to prove popular.

The front overlooks the woodland where deer are often seen. Parking for the homeowner and visitors is available opposite the house on this 'no through road'. Parking is easy with the additional benefit of Residents' Parking. An attractive mid-century frontage welcomes you in. The ground floor has a roomy shower ideally positioned for the two double bedrooms located to the rear, both with in-built storage. There is a snug/Media room which is perfect for downtime and for use as an extra bedroom if needed. There is storage to the front where the boiler is located for the underfloor heating system.

Heading downstairs, a roomy hallway has utility space under the stairs and opens onto a peaceful main bedroom overlooking the city garden and benefitting from a bank of wardrobes. A sliding door opens to a large ensuite bathroom with polished white stone bath and double sink. Sliding doors from the master bedroom lead to the enclosed and private rear garden, filled with David Austin roses, Indian sandstone terrace and a peaceful water feature.

The glass balustrade stairways lead up to the main living space. This space is exceptional whether you are relaxing quietly, spending time as a family or entertaining friends. Double height windows with sliding doors on both levels give unrivalled views of Bath and the surrounding hills that can only be described as remarkable. A floating staircase leads to the upper level which is ideal for working and dining. Later in the day the sun shines on Bath's golden ashlar stone and at night the illuminated landmarks of the city provide a spectacular backdrop for your evening.

The tucked-away kitchen is thoughtfully designed, offering ample storage while allowing the chef of the family to entertain with ease. A striking DRU gas fire seamlessly connects the dining and sitting areas, where there is plenty of space for large sofas set before three expansive sliding windows overlooking the city. Oak flooring runs throughout, while roof lights flood the space with natural light. Exceptionally versatile and undeniably impressive, this open-plan area is one you'll find yourself drawn back to time and time again. area is one you'll find yourself drawn back to time and time again.
