Some homes offer more space. Others offer a little more freedom.

Positioned on one of Braintree's most established family roads, this beautifully presented four-bedroom detached home combines generous living accommodation with a wonderfully private garden and future extension potential (STPP). Designed around modern family life, it offers bright, flexible spaces for gathering, relaxing and growing together, while the substantial plot provides room for the home to evolve as your needs change.

With excellent schools, green open spaces and everyday amenities close by, this is more than a move for an extra bedroom or two – it's an opportunity to enjoy a lifestyle with more breathing room, both inside and out.
