Ivy House, High Street, Bala

An impressive and highly versatile four/five-bedroom, three-storey mid-terraced period residence, forming part of an imposing and attractive façade on Bala's historic High Street.

The property has been substantially extended to the rear, creating exceptionally spacious and flexible accommodation, including a remarkable single-storey extension which could readily provide self-contained accommodation for independent living, an annexe for a dependent relative, or alternatively space suitable for a variety of business or professional uses, subject to any necessary consents.

Currently incorporating a magnificent full-size snooker room, together with a hall, cloakroom facilities and a large lounge, this substantial extension offers enormous potential for purchasers seeking adaptable accommodation.

LOCATION

Bala is a popular and picturesque market town set within the spectacular landscape of Eryri National Park. Renowned for its strong outdoor appeal, Bala lies beside Bala Lake, Wales’ largest natural lake, offering excellent opportunities for walking, watersports, fishing and cycling. The town retains a traditional Welsh character with a good range of local shops, cafés, pubs and everyday amenities, while road connections provide convenient access towards Dolgellau, Betws-y-Coed, Corwen and the North Wales coast. Its combination of stunning scenery, recreational opportunities and thriving local community makes Bala an increasingly attractive location for both permanent residents and those seeking a lifestyle or holiday home.

The principal house provides generous family accommodation over three floors, with the flexibility to provide four or five bedrooms, complemented by spacious reception areas and the character expected of a substantial period property.

To the rear is an enclosed yard together with a particularly impressive range of purpose-built garages providing accommodation for approximately five or six vehicles, with a substantial loft/studio room above, offering further potential for a variety of uses.

Ivy House represents a rare opportunity to acquire a large, highly adaptable town residence in the centre of Bala, combining period character, extensive accommodation, exceptional garaging and significant potential for multi-generational living or business use.
