About The Property

Two-Bedroom Estuary-Side Flat with Balcony, Reserved Parking & Wonderful Teifi Views

Looking for a two-bedroom home with a front-row view across the River Teifi? This well-presented flat in St Dogmaels has a private balcony overlooking the estuary, a reserved parking space and a setting that makes the most of this particularly attractive part of West Wales.

Set within The Moorings in St Dogmaels, 12 Glanteifion Flats occupies an elevated position overlooking the Teifi estuary, with boats on the water and open countryside forming the backdrop on the opposite bank. The outlook is a major part of the property, and the balcony provides an outdoor space from which to sit and enjoy it.

The accommodation extends to approximately 55.3 sq m and is arranged on one level, with a practical two-bedroom layout that could work equally well for those looking for a permanent home or somewhere more manageable in a waterside location.

The property is situated on the second floor and is accessed via a staircase. The entrance opens into a hallway providing access to the accommodation.

The kitchen/diner has a good range of fitted units with worktop space, an integrated oven and hob, together with room for a dining table and chairs. The dining area sits alongside an opening through to the living room, giving the main living accommodation a connected feel while retaining definition between the two areas.

The living room is a comfortable reception space, with a feature fireplace providing a focal point, but it is the position of the room that really stands out. Glazed doors open directly onto the balcony, drawing attention towards the estuary views beyond.

The covered balcony provides space for a small table and chairs and has wonderful views directly across the River Teifi and its estuary. Boats and moorings form part of the foreground, with countryside rising beyond the opposite bank. It is an outlook that changes with the tides, weather and seasons and gives the property a particularly strong connection with its waterside setting.

There are two bedrooms, with useful built-in storage providing practical space without taking up additional floor area. The second bedroom offers flexibility for use as a guest room, home office or hobby space if two permanent bedrooms are not required.

The bathroom is fitted with a walk-in shower, WC and wash hand basin, with easy-clean wall panelling around the shower area and mosaic-style tiling adding some colour.

The flat is presented in a clean and comfortable condition, with a predominantly neutral interior that should make it relatively straightforward for a new owner to put their own stamp on the accommodation.

The property benefits from electric heating and is connected to mains electricity, water and drainage.

Externally:

Outside, the position of Glanteifion Flats makes the most of its proximity to the Teifi. The building sits above the road and waterside, giving the second-floor accommodation an elevated perspective across the estuary.

A particularly useful feature for this location is the property's reserved parking space to the rear, providing designated off-road parking.

For anyone drawn to life beside the water, the combination of the balcony and estuary outlook is likely to be what sets this property apart. Rather than the river simply being somewhere nearby, it forms part of the everyday view from the main living accommodation. For buyers looking for a manageable two-bedroom home in St Dogmaels, the combination of estuary views, private balcony and reserved parking makes this an interesting proposition in a particularly distinctive setting.

INFORMATION ABOUT THE AREA:

St Dogmaels is a historic village on the banks of the River Teifi, close to where the river meets Cardigan Bay. The village has a strong connection with the river and coast and is known for the remains of St Dogmaels Abbey, its riverside setting and traditional village character.

The village has a selection of local amenities, while the market town of Cardigan lies just across the river and provides a broader range of independent shops, cafés, restaurants, supermarkets and everyday services.

The sandy beach at Poppit Sands is a short drive from the village and is also close to the northern end of the Pembrokeshire Coast Path, opening up miles of coastline for walking and exploring.

The location therefore combines access to Cardigan and its facilities with the beaches, coast and countryside associated with this part of West Wales.

For 12 Glanteifion Flats specifically, however, it is the immediate riverside position that gives the property much of its character. The Teifi is directly opposite, and the elevated second-floor position combined with the balcony provides an excellent vantage point from which to appreciate the boats, water and countryside
