If space, style and superb convenience are high on your wish list, then Grove Road might just be your next move.

Set within easy reach of everything that makes Stanford-le-Hope such a popular choice for families and commuters alike, this beautifully arranged three-bedroom semi-detached home offers versatile living across three floors — and yes, there's a loft conversion that genuinely feels like a proper room, not an afterthought.

From the moment you arrive, the home presents an inviting first impression, complete with valuable side access (because we all know how useful that is when the garden furniture arrives). Step inside and the space unfolds effortlessly.

The extended through lounge/dining room is bright, welcoming and perfectly balanced between cosy evenings and lively dinner parties. It flows naturally into the kitchen, creating that all-important sociable heart of the home. Whether it's midweek homework at the table or weekend entertaining with friends, this layout simply works.

Upstairs, the first floor hosts a well-proportioned double bedroom to the front, a comfortable single to the rear (ideal as a nursery, home office or dressing room), and a modern shower room that keeps mornings running smoothly.

And then there's the top floor. The loft conversion delivers a spacious double bedroom that feels private, peaceful and wonderfully versatile. Principal suite? Guest haven? Teenager's retreat? You decide.

Outside, the garden is generously sized yet refreshingly low maintenance — meaning more summer barbecues, less Saturday weeding. It's a space designed to be enjoyed, not endlessly worked on.

Practical touches add even more appeal, including double glazing installed approximately five years ago and a modern combi boiler for efficient heating and hot water.

Location-wise, it's hard to beat. You're just 0.6 miles from Stanford-le-Hope railway station, offering direct links into London, while motorists will appreciate swift access to the A13 and M25.

Families will love being close to Stanford-le-Hope Recreation Ground for weekend walks and playtime, as well as Stanford-le-Hope Primary School, proudly rated Good by Ofsted.

In short? A home that delivers on space, practicality and location — with a loft room that might just steal the show.
