Pine Studios was originally built as the much smaller Pine Cottage in 1920, one of the first developments on the new established private road, Madeira Walk, off Cardingmill Valley, Church Stretton. More than doubled in size and converted to five flats in the 1950's, it was subsequently remodelled again in the early 1980's into eight self-contained bedsit flats. Madeira Walk remains a private road managed by its resident's association and situated in the heart of the Church Stretton Conservation Area, with only a 10 minute walk to either the town centre or onto the Long Mynd hills via Cardingmill Valley. Despite its tranquil position, the town centre is within easy walking distance, providing an excellent range of independent shops, cafés, restaurants, supermarkets and everyday amenities, together with a railway station offering direct services to Shrewsbury, Hereford and Cardiff. Church Stretton is well placed for access to the A49, providing convenient links to Shrewsbury, Ludlow and the wider Midlands.
