Gateshead is a town in Tyne and Wear, England, on the southern bank of the River Tyne opposite Newcastle upon Tyne. The area was once an industrial area and busy commercial dockside, In recent years the area has been heavily redeveloped to provide a contemporary lively environment for the modern arts, music and culture, as well as new housing developments. Gateshead is home to the Baltic Centre for Contemporary Art and the Sage Gateshead. The Anthony Gormley structure, the Angel of the North (the largest free standing sculpture in the United Kingdom). This puts Gateshead at the forefront of the arts both regionally and nationally. The area has also become a popular location for commuters to all areas of the region including Newcastle which is located just a short drive away.
