Cornwall Gardens, South Kensington

£525,000

Situated on the sought-after ground floor of an elegant white stucco-fronted building on Cornwall Gardens, this well-presented flat offers comfortable and well-balanced living in one of prime central London's most desirable locations.

Ground floor apartments within period buildings are particularly valued for their ease of access, and this property further benefits from notably high ceilings, enhancing the sense of space and light.

Extending to approximately 400 sq ft, the property is thoughtfully arranged to maximise both space and functionality. It features a bright and inviting reception room, a generously sized double bedroom with fitted double cupboards providing excellent storage, a fully fitted kitchen, and a tiled bathroom. The proportions are well balanced and present an excellent opportunity for a purchaser to modernise and personalise the flat to their own
