Deer Park View, Spondon

Jodie says:

“I love how tucked away this home feels – being set back from the road gives it a real sense of privacy and calm, which is something that’s hard to come by. The driveway comfortably fits four cars as well as a single garage, so there’s plenty of space for family and visitors without ever feeling cramped. One of the standout features for me is the setting, it adds something really special. If you’re lucky, you might even spot the occasional deer!”

Inside, the layout is incredibly versatile. At the front of the house, there’s a large reception room that you can really make your own – whether that’s a home office, a snug, or even a games room. The rest of the ground floor flows brilliantly, with an open-plan living space that feels bright and airy. The living room leads naturally into the dining area, which sits right by the patio doors – perfect for letting in lots of light and making indoor-outdoor living feel seamless in the warmer months. The kitchen wraps around from here and has a clean, modern feel with its smart white finish and neatly tucked-away appliances, which helps keep everything looking uncluttered.

I particularly like the glass panels in the downstairs doors – they really help light travel through the space and make the whole floor feel even more open.

Upstairs, there are three proper double bedrooms, which is a big plus. The main bedroom has its own en-suite, while the family bathroom is bright and well-designed, with a shower over the bath.

Outside is where this home really shines. The garden has been thoughtfully designed with a bespoke seating area that’s perfect for entertaining, along with low-maintenance artificial lawn and additional patio space for outdoor dining. Backing onto green space, it’s a peaceful backdrop that’s hard to beat.

Overall, it’s a home that offers a great balance of privacy, space and flexibility, with a setting that makes it feel that little bit special.”

This great family home has beautiful views over fields

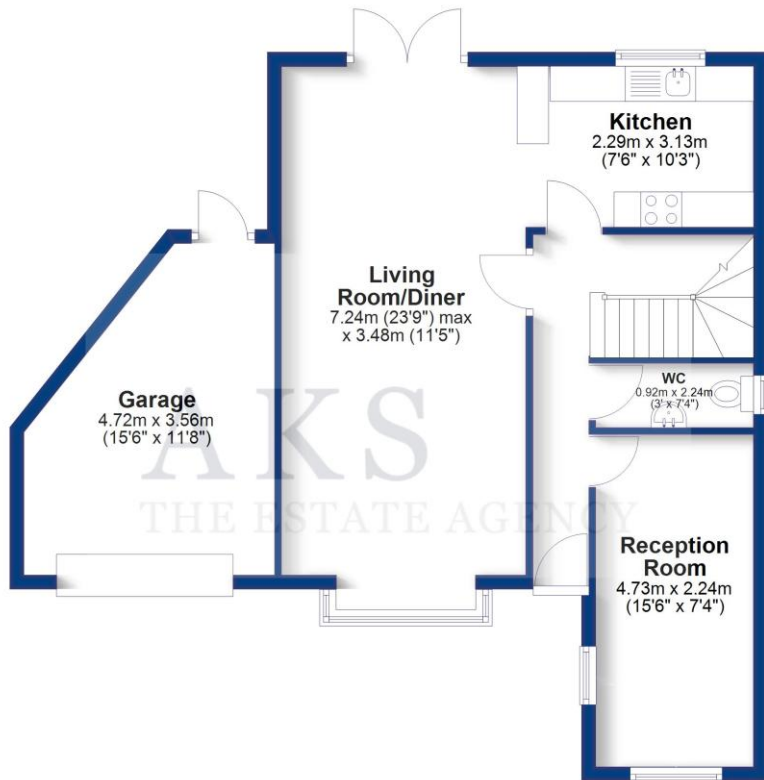

A message from the seller:

"Living here has been a joy over the last 7 years, my neighbours are wonderful and there are so many great walks nearby.. Locko Park, Hopwell Hall as well as fab farm cafe's like Stable View and The Cowshed. I love walking over the fields to Ockbrook sometimes to watch the cricket or pop into Brooks cheese + wine bar. It's been great having friends and family visit with 3 full-size double bedrooms and driveway parking for 4-5 cars, but now my job has changed, I'm not commuting into Nottingham city centre every day and it's time to move back to where I was before, nearer where I'm from and friends and family.
