SWEET HOME

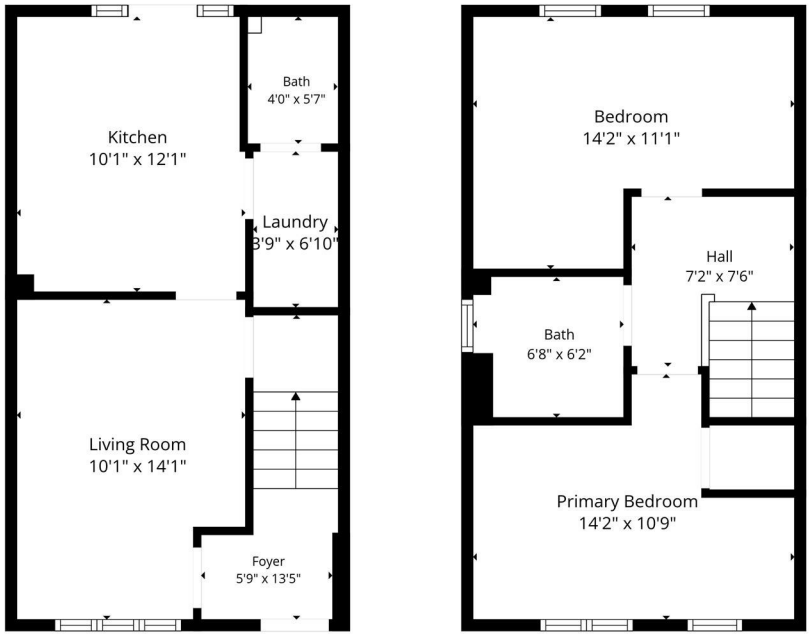

2 Bedroom House - End Terrace located in Glenboig

Sweet Home Scotland are delighted to bring to market this newly built two-bedroom end-terrace home, offering stylish contemporary living in the Lennox Gardens development within the popular village of Glenboig.

Built by Barratt Homes in Spring 2026, this attractive property combines modern design, quality finishes and practical family accommodation, making it an ideal choice for first-time buyers, couples or those looking to downsize.

The property welcomes you directly into a bright and inviting lounge, providing a comfortable space to relax. The lounge leads through to the stylish kitchen, which benefits from a glass door opening directly onto the rear garden. This allows an abundance of natural light to flow through the ground floor while creating a lovely connection between indoor and outdoor living.

The kitchen also provides access to a separate utility room and a convenient downstairs WC, adding valuable practicality to the layout.
A particular highlight of the ground floor is the beautiful tiled flooring, complemented by underfloor heating, creating a luxurious and comfortable finish throughout.
