A charming period home in the very popular and highly desirable Cherry Orchard area, perfectly positioned on the outskirts of Shrewsbury town centre. Offering a wonderful blend of character, comfort and practicality, the property retains an abundance of period appeal alongside useful modern improvements. High ceilings, decorative cornicing, character fireplaces and a bay window create a warm and distinctive feel, while the recently replaced and insulated roof and Worcester Bosch boiler offer reassuring practical benefits. The open-plan living and dining space provides an inviting hub for both relaxing and entertaining, complemented by mature gardens and gated side access. The location is equally appealing, with the town centre within walking distance and its excellent selection of independent shops, cafés and restaurants close at hand, alongside the renowned Quarry Park and Dingle Gardens.

Period charm, superb location and everyday convenience – the best of Shrewsbury on your doorstep.

The ground floor provides a welcoming entrance hallway with attractive period detailing, leading through to the principal living spaces. The impressive open-plan living/dining room is filled with natural light and features a bay window, brand-new carpet, decorative cornicing and two character fireplaces, creating a particularly warm and sociable setting. The well-equipped kitchen combines traditional-style cabinetry with granite worktops and benefits from integrated appliances, including a built-in dishwasher, oven and gas hob. There is also useful rear access from the kitchen, while a cellar provides valuable additional storage.

The first floor offers three bedrooms (two double), providing flexibility for family living, guests or home working, together with a bathroom. The accommodation retains plenty of period charm, with features including original-style fireplaces and timber flooring to one of the bedrooms. The bathroom benefits from double glazing. The roof has been replaced within the last three years and has been insulated and boarded, creating an excellent additional storage area.

The property enjoys mature gardens that provide an attractive outdoor setting and a pleasant degree of privacy. Gated side access is a particularly useful feature, offering convenient access to the rear and garden areas. The front of the property has considerable period appeal, with its attractive red-brick façade, bay window, established planting and traditional detailing. The property is ideally positioned within the sought-after Cherry Orchard area, with Shrewsbury town centre within walking distance, providing an excellent choice of independent shops, cafés and restaurants, as well as the renowned Quarry Park and Dingle Gardens. The location combines a peaceful residential setting with superb access to town amenities.
