PROPERTY DESCRIPTION

Offered to the market with no onward chain, this three-bedroom mid-terraced home presents an excellent opportunity for first-time buyers, investors, or those looking to create a home tailored to their own tastes and requirements. Whilst the property would benefit from a programme of updating, including a new kitchen and bathroom, upgrading the heating system, and general redecoration throughout, it offers well-proportioned accommodation and excellent potential.

The ground floor features a generous dual-aspect lounge/dining room with patio doors opening onto the enclosed courtyard garden, together with a kitchen requiring modernisation. To the first floor are three bedrooms and a family bathroom. Externally, the property enjoys a pleasant position overlooking a central communal green area, and with has an allocated parking space for one vehicle.

With its desirable location, good-sized accommodation and scope for improvement, this property offers the chance to create a lovely first home or a rewarding investment opportunity.

LOCATION

Bodriggy Court enjoys a convenient position within the popular coastal town of Hayle, offering easy access to a wide range of everyday amenities including supermarkets, independent shops, cafés, restaurants, schools and leisure facilities. Hayle is perhaps best known for its stunning three miles of golden sandy beaches, which are just a short distance away and provide wonderful opportunities for walking, water sports and enjoying the beautiful Cornish coastline.

The town has a rich industrial heritage, having once been an important centre for Cornwall's mining and engineering industries, whilst today it offers a relaxed coastal lifestyle with excellent transport links. Hayle benefits from a mainline railway station with direct services to Penzance, Truro and beyond, as well as regular bus routes connecting the surrounding towns and villages, including St Ives. For those travelling further afield, the nearby A30 provides convenient access across Cornwall and to the national road network.

Combining coastal charm, excellent local amenities and strong transport connections, Hayle continues to be a highly sought-after location for both permanent residents and holiday home owners alike.

Title register restrictions (CL232939):
- The lease contains a rule that restricts how the property can be sold or transferred during the owner's lifetime.
- A 1984 document includes rules about 'light and air,' which prevent the owner from building anything that would block a neighbor's access to natural light or airflow.
- There are rules in the 1984 document regarding the maintenance and responsibility for boundary structures, such as fences or walls.
- The 1984 document contains covenants, which are binding legal promises to follow certain rules on the land, such as not carrying out specific activities that might disturb neighbors.
Title register restrictions (CL232938):
- There is a rule stating that if there is only one owner, they cannot sell the property or take out a mortgage alone without a court order or specific legal permission. This is a standard 'trust' restriction used to protect the interests of multiple parties.
- The property is subject to rules (covenants) found in a 1984 document. These are promises to do or not do certain things with the land.
- The current owner has promised to follow the rules set out in previous legal documents and to protect the previous owner from any costs if those rules are broken (known as an indemnity covenant).
- There are specific rules regarding light, air, and the maintenance of boundary structures like fences or walls.
