The accommodation includes an entrance hall leading to a cosy sitting room with exposed beams and a feature fireplace, whilst the fitted kitchen provides space for a small dining or breakfast table. The first-floor landing gives access to a spacious master bedroom with dual aspect windows making the most of the open views, there is also a second bedroom and a stylish modern bathroom. Every room in the house enjoys breathtaking open views, enhancing the home's peaceful ambiance.

Outside, the property adjoins open fields to the side and rear, creating a truly tranquil setting. At the front, a small enclosed cottage garden is beautifully arranged with a variety of colourful flowering plants. Street parking is available directly in front, ensuring convenience. In addition there is the potential to purchase an area of land to the rear of the property if desired.

Located along the renowned Pennine Way and surrounded by breathtaking open countryside and moorland, offering an extensive network of footpaths for exploration. The hamlet features a small park with a community barbecue area and village allotments, while also sharing amenities with the neighbouring village of Cowling. These include a village store and off-licence, a public house, restaurant, fish and chip shop, a takeaway, playground, primary school, a church and a modern village hall that hosts various community events and classes. The nearby village of Cross Hills offers a wider selection of everyday shops and services, and railway stations in Cononley and Steeton provide excellent transport links.
