Perched on the North Downs just 14 miles south of London, Warlingham offers the perfect blend of countryside calm and city connectivity. This picturesque Surrey Village boasts panoramic views across London, charming architecture and a warm, welcoming community.

With origins dating back to the Saxon period and even earlier Iron Age discoveries, Warlingham is rich in heritage. At its centre stands the beautiful 13th-century All Saints' Church, rumoured to have links to the first Book of Common Prayer.

Set within London's protected Green Belt, Warlingham is surrounded by rolling meadows, chalk hills, and ancient woodlands. Residents enjoy the tranquillity of Blanchman's Farm Nature Reserve, panoramic vistas, and the occasional winter snowfall thanks to the village's elevated position - up to 200 metres above sea level.

It's home to boutique shops, several traditional pubs, cafés, restaurants and essential services including a pharmacy, salons, and a supermarket. A large superstore is also nearby, along with excellent recreational options such as Farleigh Court Golf Club, local stables for horse riding, and thriving cricket, rugby and tennis clubs.
