Denise White Agent Comments

Situated in a convenient and established residential location, this well-presented three-bedroom end town house is arranged over three floors and offers spacious, versatile accommodation throughout—ideal for a range of buyers.

Upon entering the property, you are welcomed by a spacious entrance hallway providing access into a generous open-plan living and dining area. The lounge space is a particularly attractive feature of the home, boasting a charming log burner and stylish wall panelling, creating a warm and inviting atmosphere. Double doors lead from the dining area out to the rear courtyard. The kitchen is accessed directly from the dining area and comprises a well-appointed, extended galley-style layout, offering ample and fitted with quality fixtures and fittings.

To the rear of the property, a small porch area provides access to a downstairs shower room and includes plumbing for a washing machine, offering a practical, albeit compact, utility-style space.

The first floor hosts two well-proportioned bedrooms, with the principal bedroom positioned to the front aspect and benefiting from particularly generous dimensions. A further staircase leads to the second floor, where a spacious loft room can be found. Currently utilised as a dressing area and additional living space, this highly versatile room also benefits from useful eaves storage.

Externally, the property enjoys a low-maintenance rear courtyard, ideal for outdoor seating and entertaining, and a further garden area with a large garden store, which would benefit from landscaping.

Overall, this attractive home combines character features with practical living space across three floors, making it a superb opportunity for those seeking a well-maintained property in a popular location.

Location

Known as the 'Queen of the Staffordshire Moorlands', Leek is a former textile town with a long and fascinating history.

The unspoilt town centre offers a refreshing alternative from modern shopping malls and has a wealth of independent shops, including former silk mills housing antique and reproduction pine centres, as well as traditional and contemporary furnishings.

Delicious local produce can be found in abundance at traditional butchers, bakers, greengrocers, delicatessens and cafes. Leek is also home to speciality producers of condiments, confectionery, preserves, wine, whisky, craft beers and the traditional Staffordshire oatcake.

Traditional markets abound, both indoors in the beautifully restored Victorian Butter Market and outdoors in the Market Place, offering everything from general goods, antiques and collectables to fine foods and special 'Totally Locally' Sunday markets. And when it comes to wining and dining, you can choose from a tempting selection of cafés, real ale pubs and restaurants.

Further afield, you'll find the unique, tooth-like rock formations of The Roaches, Rudyard Lake with its picturesque setting and narrow gauge railway and Tittesworth Water, a popular and accessible attraction for visitors of all ages.
