THE PROPERTY

Originating in the 17th century and once forming part of the historic White Horse pub, this distinctive building was thoughtfully converted into two homes approximately 25 years ago. It combines the timeless character of a period property with the advantages of a more modern conversion, making it ideal for those seeking a spacious and stylish home without the demands of extensive renovation.

Immaculately presented throughout, the property exudes style and personality. The current owners have introduced a number of smart and carefully considered enhancements, improving both the visual appeal and everyday functionality of the space.

ACCOMMODATION

At the front of the house, a glazed entrance door opens into a practical lobby with space for coats and an immediate sense of the character that continues throughout the property. An oak latch door leads into a spacious and welcoming inner hallway with impressive ceiling height and an abundance of natural light. Beneath the stairs is a useful storage cupboard housing the gas boiler and electricity meter, and to one side there is a convenient downstairs cloakroom.

Original elm double doors open from the hall into a generous study or home office with fitted shelving. This versatile room is large enough to serve as a formal dining room or a cosy family snug, offering excellent flexibility. Adjacent is a well-proportioned sitting room featuring an impressive inglenook fireplace and attractive flagstone flooring.

From the hall, original blue lias stone steps with decorative iron balustrades descend to a stunning open-plan kitchen, dining and living area spanning the rear of the house. With its vaulted ceiling, rooflights, and French doors and windows overlooking the garden, this space is wonderfully bright and ideal for everyday living. There is ample room for a dining table as well as additional freestanding furniture such as sofas, a cosy armchair or two, or your favourite dresser or sideboard.

The kitchen has been thoughtfully redesigned to provide a modern and practical layout, with sleek white gloss units and a centrally positioned five-burner gas hob, allowing the designated cook to remain part of the conversation! Clever storage solutions include carousel corner cupboards, tall pull-out larder units, and double eye-level electric ovens, all designed for practicality. There is also an integrated dishwasher and space for a freestanding fridge freezer.

Adjoining the kitchen is a separate utility room with a second sink, space for a washing machine and tumble dryer, and direct access to the garden—ideal for laundry days and bringing in shopping.

Upstairs, the landing leads to three generously sized bedrooms. The en suite double room works equally well as a principal bedroom or guest suite. The current main bedroom enjoys lovely views towards the Shudrick Valley and benefits from direct access to a Jack and Jill shower room, fitted with a contemporary white suite including a large walk-in shower. The third bedroom is another comfortable double or twin room, perfect for family members or visiting guests.

OUTSIDE

The property benefits from sole ownership of the driveway running along the side and rear, as well as a fully enclosed, sun-drenched garden. On the west side of the driveway, there is a planted area with mature shrubs and a practical bin store for keeping the space tidy. The gardens are entirely enclosed with fencing and feature two pedestrian gates providing access from the driveway.

At the rear of the house, a paved sun terrace takes full advantage of the south-facing aspect, offering a sheltered spot ideal for relaxing or dining throughout the day. Beyond the terrace, the garden is low-maintenance and planted with sun-loving herbs and architecturally interesting plants that provide year-round appeal. A variety of young ornamental trees line the boundaries, offering privacy and visual interest, while a timber garden store sits conveniently at the bottom of the garden. The elevated position enhances the outlook, drawing the eye across the garden to the far-reaching views of the Shudrick Valley hills beyond.

SITUATION

The property is situated within 400m of the centre of Ilminster, one of South Somerset's prettiest market towns.
