Former guildhall situated directly opposite to the entrance to Ickworth Park.....A charming grade II listed period house with over 2000 sqft of accommodation, tranquil gardens and a wonderful village setting Positioned within the heart of the highly regarded village of Horringer, this beautifully presented period cottage offers a surprising level of accommodation extending to over 2,030 sq ft, thoughtfully arranged to suit both everyday family living and relaxed entertaining. With origins believed to date back several centuries, the property displays much of the character typical of its era, including exposed beams, a thatched roofline, and a number of cosy, well-proportioned rooms that lend the home an inviting and timeless appeal.

Set within established gardens and benefitting from a detached double garage and plentiful parking, the property forms part of a charming cluster of traditional homes just moments from the village's green spaces, local amenities and the National Trust's Ickworth Park.

The spacious sitting room is a particularly welcoming space, featuring exposed timbers, large windows overlooking the gardens, and a central fireplace with wood-burning stove — creating the perfect focal point for gatherings. The room's generous proportions allow for multiple seating arrangements, enhancing its versatility and sense of comfort. From here, the flow continues into the dining room, another character-filled space ideal for more formal occasions. With views towards the front and the entrance to Ickworth and direct access to the ground-floor rooms, this area functions beautifully as the social hub of the home. The well equipped kitchen/breakfast room has been thoughtfully arranged with traditional cabinetry, tiled surfaces and integrated appliances, offering an attractive blend of classic styling and practical function with windows overlooking the gardens.

A useful utility room provides external access and ample storage. Beyond the kitchen, the generous family room provides a further relaxed living space with garden views and flexible potential — whether as a playroom, home office or secondary sitting room. With its open aspect and plentiful daylight, it adds greatly to the home's overall sense of space.

The first floor offers three comfortable bedrooms, each enjoying pleasant views across the gardens and the entrance to Ickworth Park and benefitting from good levels of natural light. The principal bedroom is a well-proportioned room with fitted wardrobes and en-suite. Two further bedrooms provide excellent family accommodation, with one ideally suited as a guest room or study if preferred. A well-appointed family bathroom completes the upstairs layout.

Outside

The gardens form a particularly delightful feature of the property. A combination of lawned areas, mature trees and established planting creates an atmosphere of privacy and calm, with several distinct zones for relaxation and outdoor dining. A pathway leads to the attractive rear boundary, where a summer house and a potting shed offer useful additional space for storage or hobbies. The overall plot is ideal for families, gardeners or those seeking a peaceful outdoor retreat. To the front, a large gravelled driveway provides ample parking and leads to the detached triple garage, offering excellent storage or workshop potential. The front gardens are mostly laid to lawn with vegetable gardens and extend all the way to the road.
