Located in the heart of Rustington, this well-presented Victorian terrace house offers a charming blend of period elegance and modern convenience across three well-proportioned floors. Retaining many original features, the property is set within the vibrant and sought-after village centre. Upon entering, a welcoming entrance hall leads you into a spacious bay-fronted lounge, complete with stone fire surround, currently used as an open fire. Double doors open into a separate dining room, ideal for entertaining family and friends. The extended kitchen/breakfast room is fitted with a range of classic cream shaker-style units, stylish granite work surfaces, and some integrated appliances. The kitchen provides ample space for dining and features double doors opening out to the delightful west-facing rear garden. The first floor offers two spacious double bedrooms, each boasting attractive cast iron fireplaces, and a generous family bathroom with both a bath and a separate shower. The top floor is dedicated to the impressive main bedroom, a light-filled double aspect space with French doors leading to a Juliet balcony and an en-suite shower room for added privacy. Outside, the property benefits from an enclosed west facing rear garden, featuring a decked seating area, central lawn surrounded by mature shrubs, a timber-built outdoor bar, and a handy attached storage shed. For added convenience, there is also a larger enclosed car port/ workshop accessed via a private rear service road, providing valuable off-road parking or flexible workspace.
