To one side, a dedicated study provides a quiet retreat for home working, while a spacious games room creates an ideal environment for indoor recreation. The ground floor is thoughtfully configured for both family life and entertaining, featuring a well-proportioned guest bedroom with its own WC and adjacent storage. A large cloakroom with extensive storage and a further WC off the hall add to the home's excellent practicality.

The principal living spaces are positioned to the rear of the property and have been designed to maximise comfort, light, and flow. A vast living room offers an inviting setting for both large-scale entertaining and relaxed family evenings, connecting seamlessly to the dining kitchen. The kitchen is well equipped with generous work surfaces, integrated appliances, and a central layout perfectly suited to everyday living. A substantial adjoining utility room, with external access, ensures the main living areas remain clutter-free. A wide, light-filled hall and striking central staircase complete the ground floor and lead naturally to the upper level.

The first floor continues to impress with its sense of space and light. An expansive landing provides access to four well-proportioned bedrooms, each offering its own scale and character. The principal suite is a true sanctuary, featuring a Juliette balcony overlooking Brandon Golf Course, a generous bedroom area, and a luxurious en-suite bathroom incorporating a modern steam room. Three further double bedrooms are served by a contemporary family bathroom, offering ample accommodation for family members and guests alike. The largest of these additional bedrooms enjoys particularly generous proportions, while the remaining rooms are well suited to children's bedrooms, guest accommodation, or hobby spaces.

Throughout the home, the architectural design places emphasis on both scale and functionality, with large windows allowing natural light to flood the interiors. The careful balance between open, sociable living areas and more private retreats makes this an exceptional opportunity for those seeking a substantial home with a flexible and practical layout.

Externally, the property benefits from ample off-street parking, complemented by two garages providing excellent storage or secure parking. To the rear, the garden is exceptionally large and offers a strong sense of privacy. Backing onto open greenery, it enjoys attractive, far-reaching views and provides an ideal setting for outdoor entertaining, family enjoyment, or
