Occupying one of Beverley's most sought after residential positions, 23a Woodlands is perfectly placed between the stunning open pastures of Beverley Westwood and the heart of this historic Georgian market town which offers an array of individual shops, restaurants and leisure amenities. This magnificent home represents a rare opportunity indeed to acquire a substantial family home of incredible character and quality. Extending to approximately 2,000 square feet, the property effortlessly combines the timeless period elegance of the Victorian era with the practical needs of modern family living. The beautiful Victorian facade only hints at the wealth of original features that await inside and throughout the house beautifully preserved period details sit comfortably alongside carefully considered contemporary improvements, creating a home that is both rich in heritage and ideally suited to 21st century life.

The accommodation is particularly well proportioned and thoughtfully arranged, offering two elegant reception rooms which provide versatile living space and are ideal for both formal entertaining and relaxed family life. Further characterful features include high ceilings, original joinery, decorative cornices and ceiling roses along with feature fireplaces and large sash windows, which all combine to create rooms of warmth, character and natural light. The heart of the home however is undoubtedly the amazing kitchen day room which is flooded with natural light and designed with the family in mind. This wonderful space provides a perfect setting for cooking, including an Aga, dining and everyday living. It is generously proportioned to make it equally suited to entertaining on a grand scale or enjoying quieter moments overlooking the beautiful garden to the rear. The kitchen is complemented by the practical utility room with w.c., while the original cellar provides a super additional storage facility. There are five good size bedrooms arranged over first and second floors offering flexible accommodation for growing families, guests or even those working from home. Two well appointed bathrooms serve the bedroom accommodation combining modern convenience with sympathetic styling that complements the character of the house. Externally, the property occupies a particularly generous plot that is in every way as impressive as the house itself. Extensive off-street parking is available to both the front and rear, comfortably accommodating at least four vehicles, whilst a substantial double garage is complemented by the outstanding detached workshop which itself extends to approximately 550 square feet. This highly versatile space offers endless opportunities whether for a classic car enthusiast, home business, studio, gym or hobbyist. The rear gardens are a delight and have been lovingly cultivated to create a private and colourful oasis. The lawn is framed by beautifully designed herbaceous borders, carefully planted to ensure colour throughout the year, whilst the Jerusalem limestone paved seating terraces offer a wonderful space for outdoor entertaining or simply relaxing in the peaceful surroundings. A classic greenhouse offers a perfect environment for keen gardeners to nurture plants throughout the seasons.
