

Rose Cottage

This beautifully presented four bedroom cottage is surrounded by open fields and located in the semi-rural village of Butterwick, within a short walking distance of both the park and primary school as well as the village store and pub. It enjoys an attractive, established plot which extends to approximately half an acre and is enclosed by well-maintained hedges and fencing. The garden is also interspersed with several mature trees which add colour, shape and structure as well as providing a good degree of privacy to this lovely property.

Rose Cottage is a totally unique property, having been greatly improved by the current owners over the years. It is an incredibly versatile property too, with light and spacious rooms and features that will undoubtedly suit many different types of buyer and different lifestyles. In a style that we would now consider as 'modern country', the property has two main reception rooms with a wood-burner linking both the living room and dining room. The attractive kitchen with large central island unit and open fireplace is the room that family and friends seem to gather in the most and has French doors out to the rear decking and private garden. For a family with pets, there is a good sized tiled entrance hall at the front of the property which is ideal for kicking off boots and drying the dogs after a long walk. Quite unusually for a cottage, there are four double bedrooms to the first floor with a dressing area and en-suite to the master bedroom.

For anyone that works from home however, or has a hobby, or regular visitors coming to stay, the outbuildings at Rose Cottage may be the deal-breaker. A fabulous contemporary studio built in the garden provides self-contained accommodation for guests as well as making an ideal base for a home office. In addition to this, a large wooden cabin has been used as an outdoor gym with a separate workshop to the rear, but would also be ideal as storage for a variety of reasons.
