The kitchen area

Forming the heart of the home, the kitchen is a carefully designed workspace and gathering point. Bespoke cabinetry with high quality quartz surfaces integrates a suite of Bosch appliances and an induction hob. The living and dining area

This expansive living and dining space extends beyond the kitchen to create a versatile area for family life and entertaining. The living room

Designed for more intimate gatherings, the sitting room offers a comfortable retreat away from the open-plan hub. A contemporary wood-burning stove set into a recess with an oak mantel forms the focal point and promises cosy evenings. Wide glazed doors open directly onto the terrace and garden beyond, while internal double doors connect back to the hall and living spaces.

The study

Ideal for home working or quiet study, this room enjoys a pleasant outlook through a three-panel window. There is ample wall space for shelving and desks, while multiple data and power points are fitted for today's technology. Situated off the hall, it provides a private workspace and features a convenient walk-in cupboard, ideal for additional storage.

The utility

A practical utility room complements the kitchen and is fitted with matching units and hard-wearing worktops. A stainless steel sink sits beneath a side window and there is space and plumbing for laundry appliances. The room keeps domestic tasks discreetly away from the living areas.

The hallway and cloakroom

A welcoming hallway sets the tone for the home. Oak internal doors lead off to the principal reception rooms and a carpeted staircase with oak balustrade rises to the galleried landing. Glazed double doors link to the open-plan living space. A neatly designed cloakroom sits off the hall and includes a wall-hung WC, contemporary vanity unit and obscured window.

The landing

The first-floor landing is an impressive space in its own right, with a vaulted ceiling and a glass and oak balustrade that overlooks the stairwell. A large picture window and additional side window flood this area with light and offer views across the surrounding development. The landing gives access to four generous bedrooms and the family bathroom.

The primary bedroom

The principal bedroom enjoys superb proportions and offers space for both sleeping and dressing zones. A large window frames the outlook over the rear garden and there are discreet wall light points for bedside illumination. A door leads through to a private en-suite shower room.

The primary en suite

The en-suite is finished in stylish stone-effect tiling and features a generous glazed shower enclosure with both rainfall and hand-held fittings. A wall-hung vanity unit with inset basin provides storage and a heated towel rail warms the room. A concealed cistern WC and an obscured window complete this contemporary space.

The second bedroom

The second bedroom is another well-proportioned double room with a wide window overlooking the development. Its generous floor area offers flexibility for furniture arrangements and a door leads to its own modern shower room. This suite would suit guests or an older child seeking a little more independence.

The second bedroom en suite

The second bedroom's en-suite shower room is appointed with large-format tiling and a glazed enclosure housing a contemporary shower. A floating vanity unit with inset basin provides storage and a heated chrome towel rail ensures warm towels. The scheme is completed with a concealed cistern WC and mirror.

The third and fourth bedrooms

The third bedroom is a spacious double room enjoying an outlook over the garden through a wide casement window. There is plenty of space for a double bed and freestanding wardrobes. Positioned to the front of the home, the fourth bedroom is another generous double with a three-pane window. It comfortably accommodates a large bed alongside other bedroom furniture and benefits from easy access to the main family bathroom off the landing.

The bathroom

The family bathroom is luxuriously equipped with both a deep bathtub and a separate glass-fronted shower cubicle. Stone and mosaic tiling create a refined finish. A wall-hung vanity unit with inset basin and concealed cistern WC are complemented by a contemporary ladder towel radiator, while an obscured window provides natural light and privacy.

The garden

To the rear lies a generous enclosed garden. A broad paved terrace runs along the back of the home and provides plenty of space for outdoor dining and seating. Beyond, an expanse of level lawn offers a safe play area for children and pets. A gate leads to the driveway and car port.

The driveway and parking

At the front of the property, a decorative gravelled driveway provides ample parking and leads to an oak-framed double car port under a tiled roof. There is additional space for visitor parking and a pathway borders a neatly turfed front lawn. A timber gate at the side gives secure access to the rear garden.
