THE DUTCH HOUSE

Step inside

The Dutch House

Rising proudly at one of the highest points in Thanet, this historic property is an exquisite coastal home. Originally constructed circa 1906 as one of the earliest residences on the prestigious North Foreland Estate, this remarkable landmark began life as the North Foreland Tea House, later known as the Dutch Tea House, a celebrated coastal retreat where visitors paused for refreshments served by staff in traditional Dutch attire. Its terraces and lawns, open to the sea breeze, once welcomed figures such as Winston Churchill, Vincent Price and Peter Cushing.

Today, after a meticulous, full scale restoration, the Dutch House stands not only returned to its former splendour but elevated into a masterpiece of contemporary coastal living. What was once a fading relic has been transformed into a beautifully curated family home, sensitively designed for the demands and luxuries of the modern era.

Passing through the elegant entrance gate, a charming pathway bordered by a pebbled frontage and raised wildlife pond leads you toward the house. The first glimpse is impressive, but stepping inside reveals the true calibre of this residence.

Solid oak floors, generous proportions and a sense of refined craftsmanship set the tone. The superb drawing room, anchored by a multi fuel burner, flows effortlessly through panelled folding doors into the sophisticated dining area and the serene study, where a wall of windows frames the side garden. With all doors open, the entire space becomes a magnificent, free flowing suite for entertaining, culminating in the enchanting orangery, once an open balcony, now enclosed with full length windows overlooking the secluded sunken garden.

The contemporary kitchen and breakfast room is a triumph of design: granite worktops, bespoke cabinetry and limestone flooring create a luxurious yet welcoming environment. A range cooker, American fridge freezer, dishwasher and even an inset TV ensure every culinary moment is a pleasure. Beyond lies a practical utility room and a delightful family room opening onto a small courtyard with access to an external wet room, perfect for rinsing sandy children or muddy dogs after a day on the beach.

A spacious landing leads to the modern family bathroom and three double bedrooms. Two open directly onto a vast wraparound balcony, including the principal suite, complete with fireplace, a sumptuous en suite featuring a raised slipper bath and wet room shower, and a beautifully appointed dressing room. The balcony flooring and composite railings promise years of maintenance free enjoyment of the expansive sea views.

Ascend to the top floor for the home's most breathtaking surprise. Alongside two further double bedrooms and another family bath/shower room lies the spectacular panoramic sitting room, a space wrapped in windows on three sides, offering uninterrupted views from sunrise where you can see France on a good day, to sunset across the North Foreland golf course and lighthouse. A wood burning stove and discreet kitchenette with fridge, bar and sink make this an irresistible retreat.

Outside, electric gates open to generous parking for four cars and a driveway to the garage, perfectly positioned for potential conversion into a separate annexe or pool house (subject to planning). The rear garden, set below eye level for exceptional privacy, features manicured lawns, a large central terrace for al fresco dining, raised flower beds and a substantial summer house ideal as an outdoor dining room or a stylish teenager's hideaway.

The property also has planning permission for the erection of a three storey, four bed detached dwelling following the demolition of the existing garage. While this represents a substantial redevelopment space occupied by the garage, there remains the potential for someone to re apply for a smaller dwelling or an annexe should a reduced scale be more appropriate for them. You can see the planning application online using the planning application reference F/TH/24/0563.

Seller Insight

“ When we first discovered this house in 2018, it was love at first sight and has been a home that has been the backdrop to countless joyful memories. We've hosted garden parties that spilled out onto the lawns, candlelit dinners that lasted long into the night, and welcomed family and friends who never fail to comment on the house's atmosphere. There is something undeniably uplifting about this place, perhaps because it has always been a social retreat, a holiday haven, a place where people came to enjoy themselves. That spirit seems to linger in the walls.

The views have been a constant source of wonder. Sunrises that wash the sky in soft pastels, sunsets that blaze across the horizon, and on certain nights, the moon shimmering across the sea, a sight so magical it never loses its charm.

*As part of the North Foreland Estate, we have cherished our access to the private beach, reached by steps and a padlocked tunnel carved through the cliffs, the very tunnel that inspired John Buchan's The 39 Steps during his stay here. It feels like a secret world of its own, a place where we've enjoyed quiet morning swims, picnics on warm evenings and the simple pleasure of having the coastline almost entirely to ourselves.*

Living here has been a delight in every season. Country walks, the renowned North Foreland golf course on our doorstep, and the sandy stretches of Joss Bay and Stone Bay make it an idyllic setting for families who love the outdoors. Broadstairs itself is a gem — full of independent shops, charming beaches, lively bars and restaurants, a cinema and beloved annual events such as Folk Week, the Dickens Festival and the Food Fair. Excellent schools and the high speed train to London (under 90 minutes) have made life both convenient and connected.

*We have adored our time here, but it feels right to downsize. Letting go is bittersweet, but we take comfort in knowing that the Dutch House is ready for its next chapter, and for someone new to fall in love with it just as we did.”
