Courtenay Road

A beautifully presented three-bedroom terraced house situated on Courtenay Road.

A front forecourt garden leads to an enclosed porch and into a welcoming hallway where original tiled flooring immediately establishes the character of the house. The open plan living and dining room unfolds beyond, with a bay window, stripped wooden flooring and a cast iron log burner.

To the rear, the kitchen is arranged with practicality in mind and is complemented by a cloakroom. The rear garden extends the living space outdoors and benefits from a garage accessed via the rear lane, offering valuable storage or secure parking.

The first floor hosts three double bedrooms, each well proportioned and versatile, together with a family bathroom.

Splott enjoys a strong sense of community and sits within one of Cardiff's most sought after residential pockets. Independent cafés, local shops and well regarded schools are within easy reach, while nearby parks provide welcome green space for morning walks or weekend leisure. Excellent transport links connect seamlessly to Cardiff city centre, the university and principal business districts, making this an address that balances tranquillity with accessibility.
