📊 EPC Rating E

A charming and substantial period home believed to date back some 200 years, 56 Wilcot Road enjoys a highly convenient central position within Pewsey. Set within a generous plot of approximately 0.35 acres, the property offers significant scope for refurbishment, extension, or comprehensive redevelopment (subject to the necessary planning permissions), making it an exciting opportunity for buyers, developers, or investors seeking a project with long-term potential.

The accommodation is arranged over three floors and retains a traditional, well-proportioned layout. The ground floor comprises two generous reception rooms to the front, providing flexible living and entertaining space, together with a separate dining room. The kitchen lies to the rear and is complemented by a utility room and adjoining cloakroom, offering practical day-to-day functionality with scope for reconfiguration or extension.

On the first floor, there are three well-proportioned bedrooms arranged around a central landing, along with a family bathroom. The second floor provides three further bedrooms and an additional bathroom, offering versatile accommodation suited to larger families, guest space, or home working arrangements.

Externally, the property is further enhanced by a range of outbuildings, including a workshop and store, as well as a garage and carport. Vehicular access to the rear leads directly to the garden and outbuildings, a particularly valuable feature that supports both everyday convenience and future development possibilities.

The mature plot extends to approximately 0.35 acres and offers a rare combination of space and central village positioning. Subject to the relevant planning consents, there is clear potential for extension of the existing dwelling, redevelopment of the site, or the creation of additional units, making this an increasingly scarce opportunity within such a desirable and well-connected location.

Overall, this is a unique opportunity.
