DESCRIPTION

Situated in the heart of Bisley within a designated conservation area, this deceptively spacious Grade II listed home is believed to date back to the 18th century and is rich in character throughout.

Arranged over three floors, Norwich House blends historic charm with thoughtful modern updates. Original features include flagstone flooring, exposed beams, stone mullion windows, and an impressive Cotswold stone fireplace with a wood-burning stove. Underfloor heating has been added to the reception rooms for enhanced comfort.

The flexible ground floor accommodation can be accessed via either the sitting room or dining room, both enjoying views over Bisley High Street. The dining room leads into a recently refurbished kitchen, fitted with a range of built-in units and complemented by a separate utility area. From here, there is access to a private courtyard with a pleasant seating space.

A striking circular staircase leads to the first floor, where the principal bedroom features built-in wardrobes and a charming Juliet-style balcony. Generous in size, this room could also serve as an additional reception space if desired. A stylish bathroom with a freestanding bath is also located on this level.

The second floor offers two further bedrooms along with a separate shower room.

Outside, the courtyard provides a secluded spot for bistro-style dining and includes a useful undercroft storage area. Unrestricted parking is available on the High Street on a first-come, first-served basis.

DIRECTIONS

Take the A419 from Stroud in the direction of Cirencester and after approximately 3 miles, turn left into Toadsmoor; continue up the hill and follow the road to Bisley. On reaching the village, park on the High Street where you will find Norwich House a short distance along on the left hand side.

LOCATION

The village of Bisley is a well kept secret. Its historic core would rival many of the more famous villages in the Cotswolds but due to its location, tucked away in the hills between Cheltenham and Stroud, it has remained relatively 'undiscovered'.

Surrounded by outstanding countryside characterised by dramatic views over rolling farmland interspersed with clumps of ancient woodland, this part of the Cotswolds has a timeless quality. There is a wonderful network of public footpaths and country lanes.

Bisley has an excellent primary school, pub, sports and social clubs and an annual fete and flower Show.

The nearby Georgian spa town of Cheltenham, with its famous racecourse is approximately 10 miles away and is easily accessible, as are Stroud, Gloucester, Bath, Bristol, Swindon, and the M4 and M5 motorways. A mainline railway station in nearby Stroud brings London within 90 minutes.

Motorway M5 J11a - 14 miles, Motorway M5 J13 - 9 miles, Gloucester Railway Station - 15 miles, Stroud Railway Station - 5 miles, Cheltenham (central) - 12 miles. Distances are approximate.
