LOCATION

The village of Balsham lies about 10 miles south east of the university city of Cambridge and is very conveniently placed for access to Addenbrooke's Campus and is also equi-distant of the horseracing town of Newmarket and the historic market town of Saffron Walden. Haverhill is also within easy reach with its many shopping and other local amenities and the larger village of Linton with shopping and schooling facilities is just one mile away. Balsham offers an excellent range of local amenities including its own primary school, delicatessen and coffee shop, post office/stores, fine church, two inns and recreation ground with children's play area adjacent. For the commuter there are mainline stations at both Whittlesford and Audley End and the nearest M11 motorway access point is located at Duxford (Junction 10, (north and south) or Stump Cross (Junction 9, south only).
