Description

Offered for sale for the first time in nearly 30 years, Parsons Farm offers an increasingly rare opportunity to own a fine period house surrounded by its own land, pasture and woodland yet in an unspoilt and accessible rural spot only 2.5 miles from Horsham town centre. In addition to the handsome Grade II Listed timber framed farmhouse, the property includes good secondary accommodation and excellent outbuildings, equestrian facilities and land.

The farmhouse with its mixture of brick, timbered and weatherboarded elevations was historically understood to have been built as a Sussex Barn in the early 17th C. with the Western bays used as a dwelling for most of the building's life and with the remaining bays of the barn converted by the previous architect owner to create a spectacular vaulted 24' reception room approached by the stone flagged floor entrance hall. With further additions within the current owners' tenure, the property offers flexibility for multi-generational family living between the house, attached annexe and the separate guest cottage.

To the first floor, the principal bedroom includes a comprehensive range of fitted wardrobes and bedroom furniture and with ensuite shower room, and then with adjacent double bedroom three and family bathroom. To the second floor with its fine vaulted exposed timbered roof is double bedroom two with part dividing internal timber framing to office/dressing area with fitted cupboards.

The annexe may be reached by an interconnecting door from the living room or separate external doors with adjacent EV charging point and with accommodation including entrance hall, South facing kitchen/dining/sitting room with a range of fitted units, inner hall, bathroom, stair ladder to attic/store, double aspect double bedroom and a triple aspect living room/bedroom with outlook over the garden and sliding glazed doors thereto.

The attractive gardens immediately adjoin the house and annexe and include a feature pond to the South side, adjacent summerhouse, kitchen garden and orchard with mixed fruits including apple, plum, pear and damsons with walnut trees beyond. The separate guest cottage includes a kitchen/sitting room, cloaks/shower room, single ground floor bedroom and to the first floor a double bedroom and dressing area/store. Attached to this are various adaptable outbuildings.

Completing the property and lying beyond the pasture fields with separate access from Kerves Lane is the gently undulating Hard's Wood, a block of beautiful ancient woodland with mixed broadleaf species including oak, ash, field maple, cherry, hawthorn and hazel with an underlying carpet of bluebells and an abundance of wild garlic. Private paths meander through the wood and down to the stream with additional pond area to one side to complete the overall natural amenity appeal and conservation and wildlife interests. Of the total property of c. 28.07 acres, the wooded areas extends to approaching 16 acres and including newer plantations in and around the farm and all creating a diverse habitat and beautiful setting for the quiet enjoyment of the owners with great potential and flexibility for different equestrian, agricultural smallholding or recreational and conservation interests in this fine part of rural Sussex.
