79 Sandhurst Road, London, SE6 1UP

Asking price £595,000

An impressive three-bedroom period mid-terrace home, offering a superb combination of character, modern living and generous accommodation throughout.

Internally, the accommodation is bright, well proportioned and presented with a modern feel throughout. The property features a spacious reception and dining area, kitchen and access to the large rear garden.

On the first floor are two generously sized double bedrooms and a third, smaller single bedroom or home office with the added bonus of a converted loft room, providing excellent additional space. The property also boasts exciting potential to extend.

Located within easy reach of Catford, the property is well placed for a wide range of shops, restaurants and local amenities. Hither Green Station is also within convenient reach.
