Set within approximately 1.3 acres and enjoying far-reaching views towards the Mendip Hills, this exceptional former stable block has been thoughtfully transformed into a striking five-bedroom home. Seamlessly blending contemporary architecture with its agricultural heritage, the house unfolds across two generous wings and sits harmoniously within its elevated rural setting. The cathedral city of Wells is just a 10-minute drive away, placing everyday amenities within easy reach while retaining a true sense of countryside seclusion.

Inside

Approached via a driveway off a scenic route between the small cathedral city of Wells and the popular village of Wedmore the property provides parking for several vehicles and leads to a double garage. The façade immediately sets the tone: a combination of original stone, oak cladding and black corrugated steel beneath a pitched roof fitted with solar panels.

The front door opens into a light filled entrance hall which links the two wings of the house. Sliding glazed doors on opposing sides frame views through the gardens, creating a wonderful sense of transparency and connection to the landscape. Traditional quarry tiles run underfoot.

At the heart of the home lies an impressive open-plan kitchen, dining and living space. Soaring ceilings with exposed timber beams enhance the volume, while large sliding doors draw in natural light and open directly onto the terrace. Oak parquet flooring extends throughout, warmed by underfloor heating. The bespoke kitchen has been beautifully crafted with oak cabinetry and worktops, complemented by a striking central island formed entirely from black Richlite. Integrated Bosch appliances include an oven, warming drawer, hob, dishwasher and fridge/freezer, while terrazzo tiles provide a refined yet practical finish underfoot.

The dining area and seating space are generous and well defined, centred around a wood-burning stove that brings warmth and intimacy during the cooler months.

Above, a peaceful mezzanine level provides an ideal study or reading area, complete with bespoke shelving rising towards the apex of the roof and a large rooflight drawing in daylight.

A separate utility room, fitted with oak units and stainless-steel worktops, provides further practicality along with direct garden access.

The bedroom accommodation is thoughtfully arranged to provide both privacy and flexibility. The principal suite is quietly positioned and features exposed Douglas fir beams, an oak-framed window and glazed doors opening onto a private courtyard garden. A spacious dressing room and an elegant en suite with freestanding bath, walk-in shower and double basin complete the suite. Two further bedrooms occupy this wing — one on the ground floor with a charming box window framing countryside view, and another set beneath the eaves upstairs with a large skylight offering panoramic vistas of the Mendips.

The second wing houses two additional bedrooms, both with direct external access, making them ideal for guests or multi-generational living. The larger of the two benefits from an en suite, while a separate bathroom serves the remainder.

Outside

The grounds are a defining feature of The Stables. Extending to approximately 1.5 acres, the house enjoys an elevated position with sweeping views towards the Mendip Hills. Both wings open onto a sheltered courtyard style garden enclosed by low stone walls and framed by established trees and seasonal planting. Directly accessed from the kitchen, a generous terrace laid with handmade red brick and edged with fragrant lavender provides a wonderful setting for outdoor dining and entertaining.

Lawns stretch out towards a gently sloping paddock where a stream meanders through the landscape, enhancing the sense of tranquillity.

Fruit trees, including apple and cherry, are dotted throughout the grounds, offering colour and seasonal abundance. An original open-sided agricultural barn remains within the garden, providing useful storage for logs and equipment, while also presenting potential for creative future use.

Situation

Henton is a popular village which is part of an active community of villages that lie between Wells and Wedmore, which provide a wide range of amenities. The nearby cathedral city of Wells offers all the usual attractions of a market town including banks, doctors' surgeries and dentists with supermarkets, a cinema and weekly markets every Wednesday and Saturday. The High Street is vibrant with a small selection of the usual chain stores plus a variety of independent shops, pubs and restaurants. At the very heart of the city is the medieval cathedral, Bishops Palace and Vicars' Close (reputed to be the oldest surviving residential street in Europe). The festivals in Wells are increasing in popularity each year with the Literary Festival attracting big names, the very well attended Food Festival and many regular arts festivals. With both the cathedral School and the cathedral itself there are endless opportunities for musical concerts, plus there are regular shows and comedy nights in the Little Theatre. Golf clubs can be found in Wells and on the Mendips. Sailing and fishing can be found on the Chew Valley and Blagdon Lakes.

The historic village of Wedmore has a wealth of local amenities and a good selection of shops. The village has three public houses and several clubs including Wedmore Golf Club, Wedmore Opera, a thriving W.I., football, tennis, bowls, and cricket clubs. There is a doctor's surgery and a dental surgery and post office in the village and there are active children's groups such as Scouts, Cubs, Brownies and Guides.

A good selection of State and Independent schools are within easy reach. Including Wells Cathedral School (approx. 4 miles) and Millfield School (approx. 8 miles).
